(Discuss importance in terms of historical or architectural context as defined by theme, period, and geographic scope. Also address integrity.)

The structure is located in the City of Vernon, the first "exclusively industrial" city in America. The building is industrial in style, in keeping with the character of the city as a whole. Research of available Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps indicates that prior to its current use, the structure was used by the California Container Corp.

The integrity of this property is high. It is not a particularly good example of the architectural style or of a method of construction. Research of available historical records has not uncovered any significant associations of the occupants.
